New from SIU Press is The Civilian Conservation Corps in Southern Illinois, 1933-1942.

Drawing on more than thirty years of meticulous research, this richly illustrated volume is the first to detail the Depression-era history of the simultaneous creation of the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) and the Shawnee National Forest in southern Illinois.

Anyone who has camped or hiked in southern Illinois will savor this history of what the CCC built here—a lasting impact on both the land and the people. It’s a lesson in how to build opportunity from the ground up. —Sheila Simon, former lieutenant governor of Illinois
