Distance Learning Support

- For Faculty & Instructors [1]
- Services [2]

If you are teaching a Southern Illinois University Carbondale distance education or off-campus program class, Morris Library staff will:

- Assist you with making electronic copies of course materials available to students.
  - Read Morris Library's Guide to Distance Education and Copyright [3] for more information about copyright [4], fair use [5], and the TEACH Act [6].
- Teach workshops for your students and provide online materials about available resources.
  - Please contact the Liaison Librarian [7] for the department in which you teach.
- For help with designing and teaching an online course, please contact the Center for Teaching Excellence, [8]
- Get your students registered for access to online resources.
  - For more information contact Marissa Ellermann [9].

Off-campus faculty members are also eligible for the services listed on our Distance Learning page [10].
