Overdue Books

Answers to frequently asked questions about overdue books from Morris Library.

How much does an overdue book cost me?

- You are fined $0.15 a day for overdue library materials.
- Overdue Reserve materials cost $1.00 per minute they are overdue.
- Items that become 28 days overdue are automatically assigned a status of 'lost.'
- For more information on fines and fees please see our page on the topic [2].
- To see how long you can keep an item, check our Loan Periods [3].

How can I stop the fine from building up further?

- Return the book to the Circulation Services desk on the first floor of Morris Library. We recommend you get a receipt in case there are questions about when the book was returned.
- Renew your book. You can do this online by logging in to your I-Share account [4] or by calling the Circulation Services desk at 618/453-1455. If your book has a pink band (interlibrary loan), you should call 618/453-3374 to renew.
- Borrowers from other I-Share libraries should return items to their home library or renew online by logging in to their I-Share account.

Where and how do I pay the fine or fee?

- At the Circulation Services desk on the first floor of Morris Library.
- By mail to the following address: Circ Desk, Morris Library - Mail Code 6632, SIUC, 605 Agriculture Drive, Carbondale, IL 62901.
- Fines may be paid in cash, with a check or money order, or by credit/debit card in person between 8AM and 4:30PM. Credit cards will not be accepted over the phone. DebitDawg cards are not accepted. For additional information on paying by credit card, please call 618/453-1455.

What happens if I don't pay my fine?

- It's referred to the Bursar's Office. If you have outstanding library
