Collaborative Projects

- Collections [1]

The Special Collections Research Center has worked with other organization to produce a number of online resources.

Irish Literary Collections Portal [2]

Access to finding aids of over 100 of North America's Irish literary manuscript collection.

Confluence and Crossroads: The Civil War in the American Heartland [3]

Confluence and Crossroads is a digital repository through which researchers, students, scholars, genealogists, historic interpreters, authors, and members of the general public can access information pertaining to the Civil War in southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois.

Historypin [4]

Digitized postcards and historic photographs of old buildings and street scenes pinned to a Google map at their current or former location. These images depict Southern Illinois University Carbondale, the city of Carbondale, the city of Murphysboro, and other Southern Illinois cities and towns.

Links: