The Friends of Morris Library is an organization dedicated to the promotion and support of Morris Library. Since 1960 the Friends have contributed to the improvement of facilities; purchased needed books, journals and other library materials; restored valuable works of art; preserved existing materials; and sponsored special community events. Also, the Friends annually present the Delta Award to an author, editor, or publisher from or living in southern Illinois, who has contributed significantly to the literature of the region.

When you join the Friends of Morris Library, you will be forging a partnership between private individuals and one of the premier research libraries in the nation. Through gifts from people like you, Morris Library is able to offset diminishing public funding while enhancing the Library’s capabilities.

The Friends of Morris Library organize several events each year:

- Friends of Morris Library Annual Fundraiser[7]
